NEWSLETTER

MAY 2021

Sharon Prenton Jones has recently gained her MPAGB and has sent us this:

"I am pleased to be able to report that I have been successful in gaining the MPAGB (Master of the Photographic Alliance of Great Britain). This distinction is described by the PAGB as recognising the "highest standard of UK amateur photography", and was gained with a collection of 20 images.

The PAGB state that "Applicants for MPAGB must have held DPAGB for a least 11 months on the date of the adjudication The Adjudicators are looking for an extremely high standard of photography: photographs which, in their opinion, would enjoy a very considerable level of success in International Exhibitions, including consistent and frequent acceptances". Huge thanks to all the models and, of course, my ever-suffering hubby Rob."

This is a first in North Wales and we should be very proud of her.
